SUBJECT: Instructions on the Use of the 2700 Printer

Effective 15 August 1990 the Information Services Division has installed a new 2700 printer for some print jobs previously routed to the DAC. Printing may be done from CMS files, AIM or GIMS. Wang routed material should continued to be printed on other existing printers. In order to have your material printed at that destination each user will have to modify their own profile exec. I am providing the statements below in order to accomplish this. In addition I am including other necessary information that might be useful. If you experience any problems you may call [REDACTED] or me for assistance.
